

SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

Objective

The objective of Impulse Youth Arts Organization (IYAO) in implementing and enforcing this policy is to define sexual harassment, prohibit it in all forms, carry out appropriate disciplinary measures in the case of violations, and provide procedures for lodging complaints about conduct that violates this policy and investigating sexual harassment claims.

Scope

This policy applies to all directors, staff, and band members of IYAO and those working for the company at all locations. All directors, staff, and band members, will be subject to discipline, up to and including discharge, for any act of sexual harassment they commit.

Defining Sexual Harassment

"Sexual harassment" is unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature that is sufficiently persistent or offensive to unreasonably interfere with another's job performance or create an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment. Sexual harassment is defined by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Guidelines as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when, for example: a) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment, b) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting such individual, or c) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

Under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, there are two types of sexual harassment: a) quid pro quo and 2) hostile work environment. Sexual harassment can be physical and psychological in nature. An aggregation of a series of incidents can constitute sexual harassment even if one of the incidents considered on its own would not be harassing. Employees are prohibited from harassing other employees whether or not the incidents of harassment occur on IYAO premises or locations of any meetings, practice or performance and whether or not the incidents occur during working hours.

Examples of Prohibited Conduct

Though sexual harassment encompasses a wide range of conduct, some examples of specifically prohibited conduct include the following:

- Sexual pranks, or repeated sexual teasing, jokes, or innuendo, in person or via e-mail;
 - Verbal abuse of a sexual nature;
 - Touching or grabbing of a sexual nature;
 - Repeatedly standing too close to or brushing up against a person;
 - Repeatedly asking a person to socialize during off-duty hours when the person has said no or has indicated he or she is not interested (supervisors in particular should be careful not to pressure their employees to socialize);
 - Giving gifts or leaving objects that are sexually suggestive;
 - Repeatedly making sexually suggestive gestures;
 - Making or posting sexually demeaning or offensive pictures, cartoons or other materials in the workplace;
 - Off-duty, unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature that affects the work environment.

- Physical assaults of a sexual nature, such as rape, sexual battery, molestation or attempts to commit these assaults, and intentional physical conduct that is sexual in nature, such as touching, pinching, patting, grabbing, brushing against another employee's body or poking another employee's body.
 - Unwelcome sexual advances, propositions or other sexual comments, such as sexually oriented gestures, noises, remarks, jokes or comments about a person's sexuality or sexual experience.
 - Preferential treatment or promises of preferential treatment to an employee for submitting to sexual conduct, including soliciting or attempting to solicit any employee to engage in sexual activity for compensation or reward.
 - Subjecting, or threats of subjecting, an employee to unwelcome sexual attention or conduct or intentionally making performance of the employee's job more difficult because of that employee's sex.
 - Sexual or discriminatory displays or publications anywhere in [Company Name]'s workplace by the [Company Name] employees.
- Retaliation for sexual harassment complaints.

Responding to Conduct in Violation of Policy

Directors, Staff or Members

If a director, staff or member believes that he or she has been subject to sexual harassment or any unwelcome sexual attention, he or she may address the situation directly and immediately to the harasser, if possible. If the inappropriate conduct does not cease, or if the employee is unable to or uncomfortable with addressing the alleged harasser directly, he or she should report the incident to any staff or director. It is helpful, but not required, to provide a written record of the date, time and nature of the incident(s) and the names of any witnesses.

It is important to report any and all concerns of sexual harassment or inappropriate sexual conduct to the any staff or director as soon as possible. Directors must be made aware of the situation so that it can conduct an immediate and impartial investigation and take appropriate action to remediate or prevent the prohibited conduct from continuing.

Directors and Staff

Directors and Staff must deal expeditiously and fairly with allegations of sexual harassment within their departments whether or not there has been a written or formal complaint. They must:

- Take all complaints or concerns of alleged or possible harassment or discrimination seriously no matter how minor or who is involved.
- Ensure that harassment or inappropriate sexually oriented conduct is immediately reported to any director or staff so that a prompt investigation can occur.
- Take any appropriate action to prevent retaliation or prohibited conduct from recurring during and after any investigations or complaints.

Directors or staff who knowingly allow or tolerate sexual harassment or retaliation, including the failure to immediately report such misconduct to the board of Directors, are in violation of this policy and subject to discipline.

Complaint Resolution Procedures

Individuals should report complaints of conduct believed to violate IYAO's sexual harassment policy according to the policy's complaint procedures. To initiate a formal investigation into an alleged violation of this policy, employees may be asked to provide a written statement about the alleged misconduct to any director. Complaints should be submitted as soon as possible after an incident has occurred. The director may assist the complainant in completing the statement.

To ensure the prompt and thorough investigation of a sexual harassment complaint, the complainant should provide as much of the following information as is possible:

1. The name, department and position of the person or persons allegedly causing the harassment.
2. A description of the incident(s), including the date(s), location(s) and the presence of any witnesses.
3. The effect of the incident(s) on the complainant's ability to perform his or her job, or on other terms or conditions of his or her employment.
4. The names of other individuals who might have been subject to the same or similar harassment.
5. What, if any, steps the complainant has taken to try to stop the harassment.
6. Any other information the complainant believes to be relevant to the harassment complaint.

If an investigation results in a finding that this policy has been violated, the mandatory minimum discipline is a written reprimand. The discipline for very serious or repeat violations is termination of employment. Persons who violate this policy may also be subject to civil damages or criminal penalties.

Confidentiality

All inquiries, complaints and investigations are treated confidentially. Information is revealed strictly on a need-to-know basis. Information contained in a formal complaint is kept as confidential as possible. However, the identity of the complainant is usually revealed to the respondent and witnesses. The director takes adequate steps to ensure that the complainant is protected from retaliation during the period of the investigation. All information pertaining to a sexual harassment complaint or investigation is maintained by the director in secure files. The director can answer any questions relating to the procedures for handling information related to sexual harassment complaints and investigations to complainants and respondents.
